

MARC SHOTTEN

Road Safety Specialist, World Bank

Marc Shotten is Program Manager of the Global Road Safety Facility (GRSF), housed in the World Bank's Transport and Information and Communication Technologies Global Practice in Washington D.C. Since 2006, he has helped lead the development of safe road mobility programs to low- and middle-income countries, working closely with the transport lending operations of the World Bank Group. In this regard, he works directly with client governments, international partner agencies, the private sector, and non-governmental organizations (NGOs). He is the current Chair of the United Nations Road Safety Collaboration Working Group on Road Safety Management, Advisor to the Federation International de L'Automobile (FIA) High Level Panel on Road Safety, and past Executive Board member of the International Roads Federation. Mr. Shotten was a lead author on "Transport for Health" (2014), by The World Bank and Institute for Health Metrics and Evaluation, the first attempt to quantify the global burden of disease from motorized road transport. Prior to his current position, Mr. Shotten held assignments in the World Bank's East Asia Infrastructure Division and Development Economic Research Group. He holds degrees from Tufts University and the London School of Economics.

SIMON ELLIS

Lead Transport Specialist, Transport and ICT Division, WB Brussels Office

Simon is a Lead Transport Specialist in the Transport and ICT Practice and Global Lead for the Asset Management and Rural Accessibility Global Solutions Group at the World Bank. He has operational experience of projects in a variety of transport modes and has worked at the local and national government level. Prior to joining the World Bank in 2002, Simon worked at the Transport Research Laboratory (TRL) where he worked on consultancy and research assignments related to emerging economy and UK transport issues. Simon has a BA in Economics and PhD in transport economics related to the provision of rural transport services.

STEFAN SCHWEITZER

Senior Industry Specialist, Manufacturing- Energy Efficient Machinery & Transport Equipment, IFC, World Bank Group

Stefan Schweitzer has eight years' experience with the IFC and 22 years' experience in the automotive, cable and chemical industries. His latest position was as a Manufacturing Operations Director for Europe with responsibility for 5 Plants in Poland, Germany, Spain and Austria. He graduated with a Dipl.Ing. (FH) degree in Mechanical Engineering from the Beuth University of Applied Sciences Berlin. At the IFC his main responsibility is to technically and commercially appraise and benchmark IFC projects in the Transport Equipment and Machinery Sector. He covers the following industries: Transport Equipment and Components; Agricultural Machinery; Grid- ,Industrial- , Automotive- and Telecom Cable, Electric meters, Electronics Assembly, Plastic and Rubber Processing; Home Appliances, Engineering Services, Tool Manufacturing; Metal Packaging and Aluminum/ Metal Rolled Products, Metal Stamping, Casting and Forging

YASSER M. IBRAHIM

Acting Director- Economics and Sustainability, MIGA, World Bank Group

Yasser Mohamed Ibrahim is the Sector Manager for Environment, Social, and Integrity at the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), the political risk insurance and credit enhancement arm of the World Bank Group. He leads the teams responsible for work in these areas to ensure projects MIGA supports adhere to its policies and promote development impact. Ibrahim has worked in the World Bank Group since 2007—first at IFC, joining MIGA in 2012. He has broad experience handling complex environmental and social issues, working across various sectors and regions. Prior to the World Bank Group, Ibrahim worked in Egypt as a Project Manager for Barclays Bank, Head of Environment, Health, and Safety for TIPOCO oil and gas services company, and Technical Director for Global Environment Ltd. Ibrahim holds a master's degree in environmental engineering and a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from the American University in Cairo.

NABIL FAWAZ

Global Head - Agribusiness and General Services, MIGA, World Bank Group

Nabil Fawaz is Sector Manager for agribusiness and general services at the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), the political risk insurance and credit enhancement arm of the World Bank Group. Fawaz has extensive experience in underwriting investment projects in emerging markets and advising clients on structuring transactions to mitigate political risks. At MIGA he has led transactions across all economic sectors including energy, oil and gas, financial markets, and telecommunications. He has helped investors manage political risk in different regions including Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East. Recently he has led a MIGA initiative involving the mobilization of $1 billion in insurance capacity to retain and encourage foreign direct investment in the Middle East and North Africa. Since the initiative was launched in 2011, MIGA has supported new and existing investments in Egypt, Jordan, Libya, Morocco, and Tunisia. While at MIGA, he has also led various trust fund initiatives supporting private sector investment in conflict-affected environments including Afghanistan, Bosnia and Herzegovina, and West Bank and Gaza. Before joining MIGA, Fawaz worked at the World Bank Group's private sector arm, International Finance Corporation (IFC) in Washington, DC, where he focused on the development of financial markets in sub-Saharan Africa. Fawaz holds a master's degree in international management from the American Graduate School of International Management and a bachelor's degree from Arizona State University, with a concentration in finance.

JUERGEN KETTNER

Head of sector- Transport, European Commission, Directorate General for Development and Cooperation - EuropeAid (DEVCO)

Mr. Kettner is an experienced EC official in the field of development cooperation with a focus on infrastructure development and transport cooperation. His assignments comprise posts in EU Delegations to Ghana and Zambia as well as Headquarters' posts in ex-DG Development and DG DEVCO with a geographical focus on Sub-Saharan Africa and the Neighborhood East.

SPIROS T. VOYADZIS

President, Partnership for Finance and Development (PFD Group)

Prior to 2000 and for some 20 years, Mr. Voyadzis held up various distinguished functions for the World Bank Group in Washington D.C. and abroad as a staff member, manager, and senior manager. He took up his latest appointment for the World Bank as Special Representative to the European Union Institutions in Brussels in January 1996. He opened the Bank Office in Brussels and was its very first Director. As such, he was in charge of the World Bank's operational cooperation with the European Commission (EC), the European Investment Bank (EIB) and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD). This cooperation in programs/projects and in economic/physical infrastructure exceeded $1.4 billion per year and was geared primarily to Eastern and Central Europe-countries ranging from Russia, to the accession to the EU states, to the Balkans and to Mediterranean and Africa countries. Prior to bringing his expertise to the Brussels office, Mr. Voyadzis headed Country Operations Divisions in World Bank Operations. He has written and published several articles and reports on economic development issues. He had also participated as keynote speaker in seminars on economic development and private sector investment around the world. He has regularly lectured at the College de l'Europe in Bruges, and at the Economics Departments of the Universities of Brussels and Louvain. Over the years, Spiros Voyadzis has had several appearances on CNN, the PBS News, BBC, other TV and Radio networks and was the subject numerous interviews by European newspapers and magazines. He is supporting many international welfare organizations. He holds an Honors Master's Degree (Magna Cum Laude) in Economics, Political and Social Sciences from the University of Brussels, Belgium, and a specialization in Public Finance. He also enrolled in several business courses for senior managers, including those offered by Harvard and sponsored by the World Bank.

WALTER NISSLER

Chief of Vehicle Regulations and Transport Innovations Section; Secretary to the World Forum for Harmonization of Vehicle Regulations, UN ECE - Sustainable Transport Division

Graduated in vehicle engineering at TU-Vienna, since 1988 he is involved in vehicle testing, (Testing for type approval, periodic technical inspections, roadside technical inspections) at Federal Office for Transport, Austria. In the period 2001 – 2003 he worked in USA for development/application of remote emission testing devices for Europe. Between 2008 and 2014, Mr Nissler joined the European Commission at DG MOVE (Road Safety Unit) where he was responsible for i.a. periodic technical inspections, roadside inspections, and vehicle registration. Since 2015, he works for UN ECE - Sustainable Transport Division as Chief of Vehicle Regulations and Transport Innovations Section, and he is the Secretary to the World Forum for Harmonization of Vehicle Regulations. Previous international activities: EU-expert, vice president of Euro-Contrôle-Route, chairman of CITA WG and member of the CITA Council.

ALEJANDRO DOMÍNGUEZ LA ROSA

Head of the International Relation Service, Spanish Traffic Directorate

Graduated in Law at the Universidad Complutense de Madrid, Mr. Domínguez is currently Head of the International Relation Service, Spanish Traffic Directorate – Dirección General de Tráfico. He has previously occupied other positions in the same organization as Local Head of Traffic in Fuerteventura, Head of the Traffic Fines Service and Representative of the Directorate in Brussels. His mother language is Spanish, speaks fluent English and has knowledge of French.